A Message To Our Sponsors

Dear Prospective Sponsor,

The Department of Civil Engineering at Cal Poly Pomona continues to be a leader in polytechnic education, where hands-on learn-by-doing remains the foundation of a comprehensive and practice-focused engineering experience. As one of the largest undergraduate civil engineering programs in the nation, the department produces a significant portion of California's civil engineering workforce and maintains strong connections with industry, public agencies, and professional organizations. CPP offers a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering with options in general civil, environmental, and geospatial engineering; a Bachelor of Science in Construction Engineering and Management; and a Master of Science in Civil Engineering with options in structures, geotechnical, transportation, environmental and water resources, and construction engineering.

A signature event for the department is the Annual CPP CE Alumni Golf Tournament, founded by Professor Emeritus Donald G. Wells, PE, MS. Affectionately known as "Water Wells," he was a respected leader in the environmental and water resources group within the Civil Engineering Department. Dr. Wells was deeply committed to student success, actively involved in extracurricular activities, and served for many years as the faculty advisor for the CPP ASCE Student Chapter. His legacy continues to inspire our mission of supporting student development, professional growth, and community engagement.

Your support—whether through sponsorship, donations, or by helping spread the word—plays a vital role in sustaining these opportunities. We invite you to join us on March 12, 2027, at the Anaheim Hills Golf Course, as we honor the legacy of Donald G. Wells and empower the next generation of civil engineers to excel, innovate, and contribute meaningfully to the profession.

Sincerely,

CPP ASCE Golf Planning Committee
